

ABOUT THE STATE

HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST FROM DIFFERENT SECTIONS

Mrs. Abigail Clapp, who died May 16 at her home in Enosburg Falls, had reached the age of 88 years.

Horace Hecock, who received a shock of electricity during the storm of May 10, died at his home in Wilmington May 13 as a result.

Cornelius E. Bristol, one of Lincoln's leading farmers, died recently at the age of 79 years. He had served as officer, selectman and in other town offices.

Wallington has decided to have a war chest and an enthusiastic meeting was held May 16 to further the plans. In Brattleboro $72,000 was raised in one week.

To worry over her son, Nelson, who is in France, is attributed the death of Mrs. Fred Pickwell, aged 92, at her home in Wilmington May 15. The end came very suddenly while she was at the dinner table.

Allen Gibson, who is visiting in Springfield, is one of 60 still alive out of a company of 1,000, which was with the British forces in Belgium and France at the beginning of the war. Mr. Gibson was wounded. He is a Scotchman.

Thomas A. Alwill, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Alwill of Rutland, has enlisted in the Red Cross foreign transportation service. He goes as a chauffeur. Mr. Alwill is a linotype operator and has been employed for some years in the office of the Rutland Herald.

Miss Gladys K. Cartmell has resigned as stenographer in the probate office and the office of the state's attorney in Middlebury, and is to act as manager of the garage of her father, James R. Cartmell, in that place. She will continue as register of probate.

Enosburg Falls is to have no special Memorial day exercises this year, aside from the decorating of soldiers' graves, but a band concert is to be followed by the dedication of a service flag with five stars in honor of that number of band members who are in service.

Through a mutual understanding between friends of V. L. Perkins and M. F. Hill of Waterbury, both of whom were considered in line for the senatorship from Washington county, the undivided support of the community will be given Mr. Hill. Mr. Perkins represented Waterbury in 1917 and Mr. Hill in 1915, but on account of the greater age of Mr. Hill, he is to be given the preference at this time, with the expectation that later Mr. Perkins will be given the same support.

First Lieut. Earle V. K. Willson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel M. Willson of Rutland, has been invalided to this country from an American Red Cross hospital in England, according to word to his father. The character of his illness or injury was not disclosed. Lieutenant Willson received his commission in the aviation service of the army last August and served last fall and early winter at the Park Field aviation camp, Millington, Tenn. He left America in February with the 140th aero squadron.

VETERAN TOWN CLERKS.

These Have Held Office 40 Years or More.

The following have a record of being the veteran town clerks in Vermont, having held the office 40 years or more, and are still the present incumbents in their respective towns:

Ex-Gov. Samuel E. Pingree, Hartford, age 58 years, is now serving his 60th year.

Salmon Green, Richmond, age 82, 53d year.

George J. Bond, Searsburg, age 76, 51st year.

E. O. Aldrich, Shrewsbury, age 74, 45th year.

Moses B. Gove, Lincoln, age 70, 43d year.

W. W. Hutchinson, Enosburg, age 63, 43d year.

Charles W. Matthews, Granby, age 66, 41st year.

J. B. Pritchard, Bradford, age 79 years, has held the office 46 years, refused re-election last March.

H. S. Root, Newport, age 79, has held the office 46 years, until last March, when Newport and West Derby became a city.

Mrs. Miriam P. Landon, South Hero, age 86, has been assistant clerk 64 years, having held the latter office 36 years.

BACK FROM SCOTLAND.

Mrs. Gellatly Tells of Conditions in the British Isles.

Burlington, May 18.—"It's like heaven getting back here, where one can get a full meal," said Mrs. William Gellatly yesterday. She, with her two children, the oldest of which is 12 years, waited in the Union station for the train which would take them to their home in Barre, where they will see husband and father again after having been through many trying experiences encountered on a trip to Scotland.

Sixteen months ago Mrs. Gellatly and her two children bade goodbye to their home in Barre as they started on their trip to Scotland for a visit with Mrs. Gellatly's parents.

The trip over was uneventful and they arrived in Scotland in due course of time. In Scotland at present the food card for householders is very much in evidence. There is allowed each person one of one-half pounds of tea, one-half pound of sugar per week among other things, Mrs. Gellatly said. One may get all the flour desired, but this is of the blackest kind, absolutely no white flour being obtainable.

By means of the food cards, Mrs. Gellatly said, the government has almost rounded up an immense number of slackers and severe punishment has been meted out to them.

The ammunition factories have been and are being drafted for this work, although the method of obtaining them is not as mad as might be imagined from the word "draft."

Over there, Mrs. Gellatly said, the greatest optimism prevails regarding the final outcome of the war and the finest kind of team work is evident everywhere. On the return trip to this country the ship directly following the one on which Mrs. Gellatly and her children were passengers, was attacked by a submarine and is believed to have been sunk. All the passengers on Mrs. Gellatly's ship were compelled to wear life belts continuously, morning, noon and night. The ships were conveyed all the way over by destroyers. Outside of the sinking of the ship behind the one on which she came across, no other events of importance were noted on the trip.

ST. ALBANS CHURCH IS REDEDICATED

Bishop Edwin H. Hughes Conducted Services and Preached the Sermon.

St. Albans, May 20.—The Methodist Episcopal church in this city, which has been closed during the winter while it has been undergoing extensive changes and improvements, was rededicated yesterday morning. Bishop Edwin H. Hughes, D. D., LL. D., of Malden, Mass., resident bishop of the New England area, conducted the dedication service and preached the sermon. A patriotic rally was held last evening and the services in connection with the dedication will continue through to-morrow. The church was packed to the doors, many people being unable to gain admittance.

Rev. William Shaw, Ph. D., superintendent of the southern district of the Vermont Methodist conference, and Rev. John Benjamin Magee, pastor of the local church, assisted in the dedication services. A vested choir of about twenty-five members, under the direction of A. C. S. Beaman, sang at the services morning and evening.

The estimate value of the church as it now stands is $60,000. The changes cost something over $13,000, which included the memorials. About $7,000 had been secured or pledged before the dedication.

At the services yesterday morning pledges were made and what was designated by the bishop as a dollar-level offering was taking. The total secured was over $3,700.

A member of the congregation was Mrs. Lucy Roberts, who last month observed her ninety-eighth birthday anniversary. Mrs. Roberts was present at the dedication of the original church structure.

The address last evening was given by Rev. J. Ralph Magee, D. D., V. M. C. A. chaplain of Boston, brother of the local pastor. Dr. Magee is religious director of all the V. M. C. A. work in the government reservation of Boston.

A banquet will be held to-morrow evening with Rev. C. E. Torrance, D. D., of Albany, N. Y., formerly of this city, as the principal speaker.

During the winter, while the church has been closed, the congregation has united with the Congregational and Baptist churches in services at the Bellevue theatre. The congregations of those churches united in the rededication yesterday.

All the windows in the church auditorium, eight in number, are memorials, most of them given by sons and daughters of original or old-time members of the church. In the vestibule are gift windows from the ladies' aid society and the willing workers. A new door for the main entrance was given in memory of Ekanah Haight, the original builder of the church, and his wife, Elizabeth J. Haight.

There is a new memorial baptismal font, and a bulletin board on the front of the church, was given by the fidelity class of the Sunday school.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children

In Use For Over 30 Years

Always bears the Signature of

Charles H. Pritchard

VETERAN TOWN CLERKS.

These Have Held Office 40 Years or More.

The following have a record of being the veteran town clerks in Vermont, having held the office 40 years or more, and are still the present incumbents in their respective towns:

Ex-Gov. Samuel E. Pingree, Hartford, age 58 years, is now serving his 60th year.

Salmon Green, Richmond, age 82, 53d year.

George J. Bond, Searsburg, age 76, 51st year.

E. O. Aldrich, Shrewsbury, age 74, 45th year.

Moses B. Gove, Lincoln, age 70, 43d year.

W. W. Hutchinson, Enosburg, age 63, 43d year.

Charles W. Matthews, Granby, age 66, 41st year.

J. B. Pritchard, Bradford, age 79 years, has held the office 46 years, refused re-election last March.

H. S. Root, Newport, age 79, has held the office 46 years, until last March, when Newport and West Derby became a city.

Mrs. Miriam P. Landon, South Hero, age 86, has been assistant clerk 64 years, having held the latter office 36 years.

Mrs. Gellatly Tells of Conditions in the British Isles.

Burlington, May 18.—"It's like heaven getting back here, where one can get a full meal," said Mrs. William Gellatly yesterday. She, with her two children, the oldest of which is 12 years, waited in the Union station for the train which would take them to their home in Barre, where they will see husband and father again after having been through many trying experiences encountered on a trip to Scotland.

Sixteen months ago Mrs. Gellatly and her two children bade goodbye to their home in Barre as they started on their trip to Scotland for a visit with Mrs. Gellatly's parents.

The trip over was uneventful and they arrived in Scotland in due course of time. In Scotland at present the food card for householders is very much in evidence. There is allowed each person one of one-half pounds of tea, one-half pound of sugar per week among other things, Mrs. Gellatly said. One may get all the flour desired, but this is of the blackest kind, absolutely no white flour being obtainable.

By means of the food cards, Mrs. Gellatly said, the government has almost rounded up an immense number of slackers and severe punishment has been meted out to them.

The ammunition factories have been and are being drafted for this work, although the method of obtaining them is not as mad as might be imagined from the word "draft."

Over there, Mrs. Gellatly said, the greatest optimism prevails regarding the final outcome of the war and the finest kind of team work is evident everywhere. On the return trip to this country the ship directly following the one on which Mrs. Gellatly and her children were passengers, was attacked by a submarine and is believed to have been sunk. All the passengers on Mrs. Gellatly's ship were compelled to wear life belts continuously, morning, noon and night. The ships were conveyed all the way over by destroyers. Outside of the sinking of the ship behind the one on which she came across, no other events of importance were noted on the trip.

Over there, Mrs. Gellatly said, the greatest optimism prevails regarding the final outcome of the war and the finest kind of team work is evident everywhere. On the return trip to this country the ship directly following the one on which Mrs. Gellatly and her children were passengers, was attacked by a submarine and is believed to have been sunk. All the passengers on Mrs. Gellatly's ship were compelled to wear life belts continuously, morning, noon and night. The ships were conveyed all the way over by destroyers. Outside of the sinking of the ship behind the one on which she came across, no other events of importance were noted on the trip.

Over there, Mrs. Gellatly said, the greatest optimism prevails regarding the final outcome of the war and the finest kind of team work is evident everywhere. On the return trip to this country the ship directly following the one on which Mrs. Gellatly and her children were passengers, was attacked by a submarine and is believed to have been sunk. All the passengers on Mrs. Gellatly's ship were compelled to wear life belts continuously, morning, noon and night. The ships were conveyed all the way over by destroyers. Outside of the sinking of the ship behind the one on which she came across, no other events of importance were noted on the trip.

Over there, Mrs. Gellatly said, the greatest optimism prevails regarding the final outcome of the war and the finest kind of team work is evident everywhere. On the return trip to this country the ship directly following the one on which Mrs. Gellatly and her children were passengers, was attacked by a submarine and is believed to have been sunk. All the passengers on Mrs. Gellatly's ship were compelled to wear life belts continuously, morning, noon and night. The ships were conveyed all the way over by destroyers. Outside of the sinking of the ship behind the one on which she came across, no other events of importance were noted on the trip.

Over there, Mrs. Gellatly said, the greatest optimism prevails regarding the final outcome of the war and the finest kind of team work is evident everywhere. On the return trip to this country the ship directly following the one on which Mrs. Gellatly and her children were passengers, was attacked by a submarine and is believed to have been sunk. All the passengers on Mrs. Gellatly's ship were compelled to wear life belts continuously, morning, noon and night. The ships were conveyed all the way over by destroyers. Outside of the sinking of the ship behind the one on which she came across, no other events of importance were noted on the trip.

Over there, Mrs. Gellatly said, the greatest optimism prevails regarding the final outcome of the war and the finest kind of team work is evident everywhere. On the return trip to this country the ship directly following the one on which Mrs. Gellatly and her children were passengers, was attacked by a submarine and is believed to have been sunk. All the passengers on Mrs. Gellatly's ship were compelled to wear life belts continuously, morning, noon and night. The ships were conveyed all the way over by destroyers. Outside of the sinking of the ship behind the one on which she came across, no other events of importance were noted on the trip.

Over there, Mrs. Gellatly said, the greatest optimism prevails regarding the final outcome of the war and the finest kind of team work is evident everywhere. On the return trip to this country the ship directly following the one on which Mrs. Gellatly and her children were passengers, was attacked by a submarine and is believed to have been sunk. All the passengers on Mrs. Gellatly's ship were compelled to wear life belts continuously, morning, noon and night. The ships were conveyed all the way over by destroyers. Outside of the sinking of the ship behind the one on which she came across, no other events of importance were noted on the trip.

Over there, Mrs. Gellatly said, the greatest optimism prevails regarding the final outcome of the war and the finest kind of team work is evident everywhere. On the return trip to this country the ship directly following the one on which Mrs. Gellatly and her children were passengers, was attacked by a submarine and is believed to have been sunk. All the passengers on Mrs. Gellatly's ship were compelled to wear life belts continuously, morning, noon and night. The ships were conveyed all the way over by destroyers. Outside of the sinking of the ship behind the one on which she came across, no other events of importance were noted on the trip.

Over there, Mrs. Gellatly said, the greatest optimism prevails regarding the final outcome of the war and the finest kind of team work is evident everywhere. On the return trip to this country the ship directly following the one on which Mrs. Gellatly and her children were passengers, was attacked by a submarine and is believed to have been sunk. All the passengers on Mrs. Gellatly's ship were compelled to wear life belts continuously, morning, noon and night. The ships were conveyed all the way over by destroyers. Outside of the sinking of the ship behind the one on which she came across, no other events of importance were noted on the trip.

Over there, Mrs. Gellatly said, the greatest optimism prevails regarding the final outcome of the war and the finest kind of team work is evident everywhere. On the return trip to this country the ship directly following the one on which Mrs. Gellatly and her children were passengers, was attacked by a submarine and is believed to have been sunk. All the passengers on Mrs. Gellatly's ship were compelled to wear life belts continuously, morning, noon and night. The ships were conveyed all the way over by destroyers. Outside of the sinking of the ship behind the one on which she came across, no other events of importance were noted on the trip.

Over there, Mrs. Gellatly said, the greatest optimism prevails regarding the final outcome of the war and the finest kind of team work is evident everywhere. On the return trip to this country the ship directly following the one on which Mrs. Gellatly and her children were passengers, was attacked by a submarine and is believed to have been sunk. All the passengers on Mrs. Gellatly's ship were compelled to wear life belts continuously, morning, noon and night. The ships were conveyed all the way over by destroyers. Outside of the sinking of the ship behind the one on which she came across, no other events of importance were noted on the trip.

Over there, Mrs. Gellatly said, the greatest optimism prevails regarding the final outcome of the war and the finest kind of team work is evident everywhere. On the return trip to this country the ship directly following the one on which Mrs. Gellatly and her children were passengers, was attacked by a submarine and is believed to have been sunk. All the passengers on Mrs. Gellatly's ship were compelled to wear life belts continuously, morning, noon and night. The ships were conveyed all the way over by destroyers. Outside of the sinking of the ship behind the one on which she came across, no other events of importance were noted on the trip.

Over there, Mrs. Gellatly said, the greatest optimism prevails regarding the final outcome of the war and the finest kind of team work is evident everywhere. On the return trip to this country the ship directly following the one on which Mrs. Gellatly and her children were passengers, was attacked by a submarine and is believed to have been sunk. All the passengers on Mrs. Gellatly's ship were compelled to wear life belts continuously, morning, noon and night. The ships were conveyed all the way over by destroyers. Outside of the sinking of the ship behind the one on which she came across, no other events of importance were noted on the trip.

Over there, Mrs. Gellatly said, the greatest optimism prevails regarding the final outcome of the war and the finest kind of team work is evident everywhere. On the return trip to this country the ship directly following the one on which Mrs. Gellatly and her children were passengers, was attacked by a submarine and is believed to have been sunk. All the passengers on Mrs. Gellatly's ship were compelled to wear life belts continuously, morning, noon and night. The ships were conveyed all the way over by destroyers. Outside of the sinking of the ship behind the one on which she came across, no other events of importance were noted on the trip.

Over there, Mrs. Gellatly said, the greatest optimism prevails regarding the final outcome of the war and the finest kind of team work is evident everywhere. On the return trip to this country the ship directly following the one on which Mrs. Gellatly and her children were passengers, was attacked by a submarine and is believed to have been sunk. All the passengers on Mrs. Gellatly's ship were compelled to wear life belts continuously, morning, noon and night. The ships were conveyed all the way over by destroyers. Outside of the sinking of the ship behind the one on which she came across, no other events of importance were noted on the trip.

Over there, Mrs. Gellatly said, the greatest optimism prevails regarding the final outcome of the war and the finest kind of team work is evident everywhere. On the return trip to this country the ship directly following the one on which Mrs. Gellatly and her children were passengers, was attacked by a submarine and is believed to have been sunk. All the passengers on Mrs. Gellatly's ship were compelled to wear life belts continuously, morning, noon and night. The ships were conveyed all the way over by destroyers. Outside of the sinking of the ship behind the one on which she came across, no other events of importance were noted on the trip.

Over there, Mrs. Gellatly said, the greatest optimism prevails regarding the final outcome of the war and the finest kind of team work is evident everywhere. On the return trip to this country the ship directly following the one on which Mrs. Gellatly and her children were passengers, was attacked by a submarine and is believed to have been sunk. All the passengers on Mrs. Gellatly's ship were compelled to wear life belts continuously, morning, noon and night. The ships were conveyed all the way over by destroyers. Outside of the sinking of the ship behind the one on which she came across, no other events of importance were noted on the trip.

Over there, Mrs. Gellatly said, the greatest optimism prevails regarding the final outcome of the war and the finest kind of team work is evident everywhere. On the return trip to this country the ship directly following the one on which Mrs. Gellatly and her children were passengers, was attacked by a submarine and is believed to have been sunk. All the passengers on Mrs. Gellatly's ship were compelled to wear life belts continuously, morning, noon and night. The ships were conveyed all the way over by destroyers. Outside of the sinking of the ship behind the one on which she came across, no other events of importance were noted on the trip.

Over there, Mrs. Gellatly said, the greatest optimism prevails regarding the final outcome of the war and the finest kind of team work is evident everywhere. On the return trip to this country the ship directly following the one on which Mrs. Gellatly and her children were passengers, was attacked by a submarine and is believed to have been sunk. All the passengers on Mrs. Gellatly's ship were compelled to wear life belts continuously, morning, noon and night. The ships were conveyed all the way over by destroyers. Outside of the sinking of the ship behind the one on which she came across, no other events of importance were noted on the trip.

Over there, Mrs. Gellatly said, the greatest optimism prevails regarding the final outcome of the war and the finest kind of team work is evident everywhere. On the return trip to this country the ship directly following the one on which Mrs. Gellatly and her children were passengers, was attacked by a submarine and is believed to have been sunk. All the passengers on Mrs. Gellatly's ship were compelled to wear life belts continuously, morning, noon and night. The ships were conveyed all the way over by destroyers. Outside of the sinking of the ship behind the one on which she came across, no other events of importance were noted on the trip.

Over there, Mrs. Gellatly said, the greatest optimism prevails regarding the final outcome of the war and the finest kind of team work is evident everywhere. On the return trip to this country the ship directly following the one on which Mrs. Gellatly and her children were passengers, was attacked by a submarine and is believed to have been sunk. All the passengers on Mrs. Gellatly's ship were compelled to wear life belts continuously, morning, noon and night. The ships were conveyed all the way over by destroyers. Outside of the sinking of the ship behind the one on which she came across, no other events of importance were noted on the trip.

Over there, Mrs. Gellatly said, the greatest optimism prevails regarding the final outcome of the war and the finest kind of team work is evident everywhere. On the return trip to this country the ship directly following the one on which Mrs. Gellatly and her children were passengers, was attacked by a submarine and is believed to have been sunk. All the passengers on Mrs. Gellatly's ship were compelled to wear life belts continuously, morning, noon and night. The ships were conveyed all the way over by destroyers. Outside of the sinking of the ship behind the one on which she came across, no other events of importance were noted on the trip.

Over there, Mrs. Gellatly said, the greatest optimism prevails regarding the final outcome of the war and the finest kind of team work is evident everywhere. On the return trip to this country the ship directly following the one on which Mrs. Gellatly and her children were passengers, was attacked by a submarine and is believed to have been sunk. All the passengers on Mrs. Gellatly's ship were compelled to wear life belts continuously, morning, noon and night. The ships were conveyed all the way over by destroyers. Outside of the sinking of the ship behind the one on which she came across, no other events of importance were noted on the trip.

Over there, Mrs. Gellatly said, the greatest optimism prevails regarding the final outcome of the war and the finest kind of team work is evident everywhere. On the return trip to this country the ship directly following the one on which Mrs. Gellatly and her children were passengers, was attacked by a submarine and is believed to have been sunk. All the passengers on Mrs. Gellatly's ship were compelled to wear life belts continuously, morning, noon and night. The ships were conveyed all the way over by destroyers. Outside of the sinking of the ship behind the one on which she came across, no other events of importance were noted on the trip.

Over there, Mrs. Gellatly said, the greatest optimism prevails regarding the final outcome of the war and the finest kind of team work is evident everywhere. On the return trip to this country the ship directly following the one on which Mrs. Gellatly and her children were passengers, was attacked by a submarine and is believed to have been sunk. All the passengers on Mrs. Gellatly's ship were compelled to wear life belts continuously, morning, noon and night. The ships were conveyed all the way over by destroyers. Outside of the sinking of the ship behind the one on which she came across, no other events of importance were noted on the trip.

Over there, Mrs. Gellatly said, the greatest optimism prevails regarding the final outcome of the war and the finest kind of team work is evident everywhere. On the return trip to this country the ship directly following the one on which Mrs. Gellatly and her children were passengers, was attacked by a submarine and is believed to have been sunk. All the passengers on Mrs. Gellatly's ship were compelled to wear life belts continuously, morning, noon and night. The ships were conveyed all the way over by destroyers. Outside of the sinking of the ship behind the one on which she came across, no other events of importance were noted on the trip.

TO BECOME CHAPLAIN.

Rev. John B. Magee of St. Albans Called Into Service.

St. Albans, May 20.—Rev. John Benjamin Magee, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, has received a summons from the adjutant general at Washington to proceed at once to Camp Taylor, Louisville, Ky., there to enter training for a chaplaincy in the United States National Army. He will enter upon the training June 1 and the church has granted him a six weeks' leave of absence for that purpose. Rev. William Shaw, Ph. D., superintendent of the southern district of the Vermont Methodist conference, will have charge of the services for the St. Albans pulpit during Mr. Magee's absence.

WEBSTERVILLE

St. John the Baptist Episcopal Church

A play, entitled, "A Duel Until Death," will be given in the vestry of the church on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Refreshments will be served after program. Admission, 25c.—adv.

A Probability Expert

can only guess how long a man will live. We make a contract against loss caused by extraordinary conditions—one which puts certainty in place of guesswork. National Life Ins. Co. of Vt. (Mutual). S. S. Ballard, general agent, Rialto block, Montpelier, Vt.

BUSINESS CARDS

DR. A. H. SMITH

OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN

19 KEITH AVENUE
Phone 546-3

Hours: 10-11; 2-4:30
Closed Wednesday afternoons and Saturdays

PIANO TUNING

A few of my patrons: William A. Wheaton, Dr. D. C. Jarvis, R. Hollister Jackson, George H. Wilder, Karl Ford.

W. H. GOODFELLOW, Tel. 4-3 or 298-W, Barre

Bailey's Music Rooms

Established over 45 years. The place to buy good pianos and player pianos at the lowest possible price; also carry Victrolas and records. Easy terms given. Pianos tuned. 14 Elm street, phone 25-W.

GOULD'S PIANO ROOMS

Established in 1891. Customers get the benefit of my recent, no-agent and no-commission plan. Ask for book of a thousand references. 88 SPAULDING ST., BARRE; Phone 4-1.

CHIROPRACTIC

A Science that says that your nerves must be free from pressure or you cannot remain well. No Drugs, No Surgery, No Osteopathy.

Consultation free. Office hours: Barre, Daily except Sunday, 10:30 to 12; Montpelier, Wednesday and Friday, 4 to 6 p.m.; Montpelier, Rialto block, rooms 9 and 10—Monday, Wednesday, Friday, 2:30 to 4.

GAGE & GAGE, Chiropractors

308 North Main Street, Barre, Vermont

FOR PROMPT

MOTOR AMBULANCE

SERVICE, CALL 623-W

M. J. WHITCOMB

EAST BARRE, VT.

Undertaker and Licensed Embalmer

DR. LEWIS D. MARTIN

OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN

Office in Room 35, Miles Building

Telephone Corridor

OFFICE HOURS: 9 a.m. to 12 and 1:30 to 4 p.m., Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday.

Auction Sale

Auction Sale

Stock and Tools

Real Estate

IN GRANITEVILLE

On account of an accident which deprived me of my sight, making it impossible to carry on my farm, I have decided to sell at public auction to the highest bidder on the premises, about 1/4 mile from Lower Graniteville, on the road leading from Dr. Bailey's residence to the Pirie quarry, containing 45 acres of land, suitably divided into tillage, pasture and woodland. There are 2 houses, containing 5 rooms each; water at each house; splendid water supply, which might be valuable for supplying part of Graniteville. Quite a quantity of woodland and a part of the land is available for quarrying purposes, practically adjoining the famous Pirie dark quarry.

At the same time and place will be sold 1 sleigh, express wagon, garden plow, hand seeder, forks, shovels, hoes, etc., also 3,000 ft. lumber.

All of this property will be sold to the highest bidder as I have no further use for it. Sale will begin promptly at 2 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, May 25.

GEORGE BARCLAY, Owner.

D. A. PERRY, Auctioneer.